(By The Associated Press.)
WASHINGTON, Feb. 15.—The Senate oil committee went into the story about sale of President Harding's Marion Star today without finding any evidence to implicate Mr. Harding in the oil scandal.

Frank A. Vanderlip, who gave circulation to rumors about the Star in a public speech, testified he had heard rumors only and knew none of the facts. The Star owners submitted a statement and the committee went no further.

Turning its attention to other matters, the investigators heard from Thomas Johnson, foreman of Albert B. Fall's New Mexico Ranch, a flat denial that he ever saw $48,000 payment from the Sinclair Oil interests. Reports of such a payment had been brought to the committee recently by Archie Roosevelt.

Meanwhile President Coolidge sent to the Senate nomination of Owen J. Roberts, of Philadelphia, as special government counsel in the place of Elias H. Strawn of Chicago, whom the committee had found unsatisfactory.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15.—The Senate oil committee today told the nation that it had no facts to go on when he recently brought the name of President Harding into the oil scandal, asking for an inquiry into circumstances surrounding the sale of Harding's Marion Star, he said, was made because it was "idle duty" to "keep the name of Harding in the current rumors."

"I don't even know the price the paper sold at," Vanderlip said.

The committee today also said it had no facts to go on when he recently brought the name of President Harding into the oil scandal, asking for an inquiry into circumstances surrounding the sale of Harding's Marion Star, he said, was made because it was "idle duty" to "keep the name of Harding in the current rumors."

Collier's Reported Story of Sunday Shooting Affray

The first consecutive story purporting to give details of the wounding of Collier's magazine editor, John H. Collier, last Sunday, was known here this morning. The narrative being obtained from a friend of Mr. Collier who repeated it as nearly as he could remember it, and from whom it was drawn with some obvious exaggeration. According to the information, Magistrate Collier was shot by a Chatham man whose name he declined to divulge. The injury being sustained on or close to White Oak Mountain.

The magistrate is reported to have said that he and his wife and children were in his automobile when they encountered a car containing the unnamed man with women members of that man's family. Collier is quoted as saying he was stopped by the man and the two became unpleasantly conversant. Collier then took offense, since the discussion was taking place within earshot of the women folk.

Collier claims to have been virtuously challenged to a fight and when his antagonist charged him with being armed, he withdrew his pistol from his pocket and tossed it into his car. A personal encounter took place, Collier is reported as saying, to which the woman became involved. The shooting, according to the story, took place after Collier had dusted off his clothes and was preparing to step into his car. A shot was fired and he felt the pain in his arm. Collier alleging that the man with whom he had the difficulty but who remains unnamed having secured in some way the revolver. The injury driving his car back to Chatham. This is substantially the story which Mr. Collier's friend said was given to him last Monday.

ROBERTS SELECTED AS ONE OF COUNSEL

(By The Associated Press.)
WASHINGTON, Feb. 15.—Owen J. Roberts, of Philadelphia, was selected by President Coolidge today, as Republican member of the special commission in the oil scandal.

He succeeds Elias H. Strawn, of Chicago, whose nomination was withdrawn from the Senate by the president yesterday after it had been found unsatisfactory. The nomination of Mr. Roberts was sent to the Senate today.

ALASKA COAL MINES ENTER SCANDAL CASE

Ry. Constructor Charges
Fall and Denby Entered Into Negotiations for Transfer of Lease Along
Lines Parallel With Terms of Lease of Teapot Dome.

(Associated Press—Leased Wire)
WASHINGTON, Feb. 15.—Former Secretary Fall and Secretary Denby were declared in a letter today before President Coolidge today by John E. Ballaine, an Alaskan railroad constructor, to have entered into negotiations in July, 1921, for transfer and lease of the Rich Matanuska coal reserves of Alaska along the same lines as were later followed in the Teapot Dome oil lease.

The Alaskan coal lease was not executed, but the letter said the navy department, largely through the efforts of Secretary Fall and Secretary Denby, had successfully released $100,000 to permit use of Alaskan coal by the navy.

Mr. Ballaine, who constructed the Alaskan Central railroad, the forerunner of the present government-owned Matanuska railroad, is charged with having secured the lease of the Rich Matanuska coal reserves from the navy to the interior department and the leasing of the reserve for a period of 50 years, said the letter.

"The negotiations and the terms agreed upon between the two secretaries in this coal reserve ran along lines exactly parallel with the negotiations and the terms of the lease of the Teapot Dome oil reserves."

"No lease of the Matanuska coal reserves was executed. But the net result was that the naval mining operations in the Matanuska were transferred by Secretary Denby to the Interior Department and abruptly closed in May, 1922, at a time when the navy, as official reports show, had a mine developed, an equipped ready to produce 25,000 tons a day with 600 tons of coal hocked out in that mine and with 2,500 thousand tons in the same diamond drilling in the coal creek district."

"During the negotiations over the Matanuska coal reserves and for two years continuously up to the present time, misleading announcements, contrary to the established official facts about the quality of Matanuska coal have been given wide publicity by the Bureau of Engineers of the navy."

WHAT SOLONS ARE DOING IN THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY

(Associated Press—Leased Wire)
RICHMOND, Va., Feb. 15.—The Richards bill reversing all exemptions of the motor tax law, passed in the Virginia House through support of the "Farm" delegates, today advanced another step toward final passage by the assembly when it was reported favorably by the senate committee on revenue and internal navigation.

Approximately $100,000 additional revenue will be sent into the state treasury if the bill is adopted, according to estimates by officials.

A fight was made in the house to amend the Richards measure so as to exempt the motor boats, but delegates from the agricultural sections defeated the move. The measure has the support of virtually all the "pay-as-you-go" forces in the recent highway bond election.

The Fletcher small loan bill, reducing the annual legal rate of interest from 42 per cent to 24 per cent, was rejected by the House committee on revenue and internal navigation.

Delegate Hall's bill to create a commission to investigate alleged discrepancies against Virginia insurance rates also was defeated by the committee.

A bill to designate the highway from Old Point via Williamsburg to Richmond, as the Pocahontas Trail, was introduced in the House by Delegate Milledge of Newport News.

A bill to repeal the Robertson act, under which motor cities and individuals are allowed to lead the state funds with which to construct specific highways, was introduced by Delegate Brown of Newmarket.

The delegate of Orange, introduced a measure to place a tax on bar-

WILLIAMSON CO. INHERITS FEUDS AND DISORDERS

(Copyright, 1924, by The Bee.)
HERRIN, Ill., Feb. 14.—This county comes rightly by its heritage of disorders, violence and troubles. Its history since Colonel George Rogers Clark, the first white man known to have been in what is now Williamson county, came from the Ohio river, in 1796, reads like a symposium history of old Tennessee and Kentucky and the Western frontier towns combined.

The county's first settler, one Frank Jordan, established himself here in 1810. Others followed rapidly. The first homicide occurred in 1813, when

County Comes Rightly By Heritage of Violence and Troubles

(By J. F. YODER.)
The law-abiding element finally brought to justice one of the killers, Marshall Crain, after countless trials that were farces because of corrupt alibi testimony. He is estimated to have been worth $100,000 at the time he was hanged. He was thirteen thousand dollars. Items of ten dollars for scaffold and thirty-eight dollars for coffin and shroud were included. Where eight thousand a year was normally spent for county expenses, the total expenditure for 1876 was over thirty-one thousand "because of criminal pursuits and trials."

And the Ku Klux Klan is not a stranger to Williamson. The organization was strong here for years. It was against the old organization that the hanging in April, 1922, of Isaac Vencil, incidentally the first white man born in the county, because he refused the community oath, was a landmark. It was the still another evidence of the foundation of Williamson's heritage of disorder and trouble came at the start of the war. Following is a part of a resolution that explains itself:

"Resolved, that we, the citizens of Williamson county, firmly believing that the distracted condition of our county has been brought about by the elevation to power by a strictly sectional party, the cognate policy of which toward the seceded states has driven all border slave states from the federal union, and cause them to join the Southern confederacy, resolved, that in that event the interests of the citizens of Southern Illinois imperatively demands at their hands a divestment of the same. We hereby pledge ourselves to use all means in our power to effect the same, and attach ourselves to the Southern confederacy."

It was further resolved solemnly to enter protest against taking up arms against the people of the South and to hereby enter protest against such a course and as local citizens will follow down and forever oppose the same.

FALL ON WAY TO TO BEDSIDE OF HIS SICK WIFE

Former Secretary Is Hardly Able to Stand, Himself—
Illness Aggravated By Oil
Scandal.

(Associated Press—Leased Wire)
ST. LOUIS, Feb. 15.—Albert B. Fall, former secretary of the interior and conspicuous figure in the senate investigations of the Teapot Dome oil scandal, passed through St. Louis tonight on his way to El Paso, Texas, where he has been summoned by serious illness of his wife.

Upon his arrival here a room was engaged for him at a hotel and he immediately went to bed. After a few hours rest he was assisted aboard a train bound for El Paso and again went to bed. He was accompanied by a nurse and his daughter-in-law, Mrs. Jack Fall.

As he entered the train Mr. Fall was assisted at both sides and appeared scarcely able to walk. Mrs. Jack Fall said:

"His condition has been so serious that he has hardly been able to sit up a minute during the entire trip. She added, however, that he was slightly better than he had been for many days."

He received word that his wife was seriously ill with pneumonia some time ago, she said, "but was so ill that he could not make the journey to Texas. It was not until the night that his condition would permit him to attempt the trip and he gave rigid instructions that he was not to be disturbed on the way."

Mrs. Jack Fall stated that she believed his illness was aggravated by worry over the oil investigation.

AT DAUGHTER'S HOME

(Associated Press—Leased Wire)
ST. LOUIS, Feb. 15.—Albert B. Fall, wife of the former secretary of the interior, is at the home here of her daughter, Mrs. C. C. Chalmers, where she is under the care of physicians, for the last three weeks. Several times during her illness she has shown signs of improvement and has insisted upon getting up and proposing to join her husband in Washington, only to be ordered back to bed by the physician, according to Mrs. Fall's daughter.

The last time the doctor ordered Mrs. Fall to get up was when she was told to get up and go to Washington to aid Mr. Fall in his fight for vindication before the senate committee. Mrs. Chalmers said. After Mr. Fall prepared to come to El Paso.

Joe Jackson Wins Suit But Judge Dismisses Action

(By The Associated Press.)
MILWAUKEE, Wis., Feb. 15.—Joe Jackson, former outfielder for the Chicago Cubs of the American League, emerged victor in his salary suit against the club today when a jury in circuit court verdict awarding him $15,000.40.

The jury found in favor of Jackson on the point of the charges which he presented yesterday when it retired.

The judge, however, set aside the verdict in the face of evidence presented and dismissed the action.

DEMPSEY HERE 3 HOURS, KEPT BUSY HANDSHAKING

Jack Dempsey gave an exhibition in Danville early this morning, but it was entirely pacific and came well within the State law. "Smiling" Jack was here for three hours, waiting to make train connection for Richmond where he is scheduled to give an exhibition, not with sparring partners but bag punching and shadow work. He arrived in Danville at four o'clock today with Jack Kearns, Joe Turner, champion wrestler, and several formidable-looking gentlemen who travel around with Jack to keep him in trim and who box with him periodically. The entire group left at eight o'clock on the Richmond train but not before giving the opportunity to some forty or fifty Danville men and others of making connection with that giant paw which has made many a good man see a whole firmament of stars.

Railway men are heard of no time in looking him up and shaking hands with him. He was most genial despite his early morning arrival and he exchanged pleasantries with the railway men. But it was not long before word reached downtown Danville that Jack was on his way to the station to see the prize fighter who was besieged for hand shakes as he entered the day coach of the Richmond train.

TOWN TOPICS

Meade R. Flynn, deputy clerk of the United States court, is alleged to be making preliminary steps for the spring term of the United States court which will open here on March 10th. The docket has not been forwarded to him from Lynchburg yet, but other papers in connection with the cases to be heard indicate he stated today that the term will be unusually brief unless the federal grand jury goes far afield in its investigation. Judge Henry Clay McDowell will preside at the term.

A series of raids for contraband liquor were made this morning by Police Sergeant John Edwards and Officers J. P. Bennett, Foster Harris and R. C. Collier. A room occupied by Nat Simpson in the home of W. R. Norris on Dame street, was found to contain about five gallons of liquor secreted cleverly in aavenport. Simpson was not at home when the officers called but he was later arrested at the place of his employment and was held for trial. Officers declared that the owner of the House where Simpson rented a room was in no way involved. Among the places raided this morning was that of John Dix on Linn street, but it was a barren mission and no liquor was found.

George Heubi, director of athletics in the city schools, stated last night that he intends within a short time preparing for another May Day festival such as was given at the University of Chicago last year, and which was an unqualified success in every way. He will first outline a program of events and will then begin the necessary training for the contest. He will also have a public school children will take part.

Ahmon Massad Is Sent to Marion For Observation

(Special to The Bee.)
CHATHAM, Va., Feb. 15.—Ahmon Massad, a Syrian charged on three indictments with arson has been sent to Marion asylum for the insane for the purpose of observation. Massad was taken away from the Chatham Jail by a party belonging to the completion of the necessary for malice because of the striking evidence of dementia which had developed during the past few days. A commission of physicians examined yesterday their report that he was a fit subject for examination. He will remain in Marion until alienists have determined if he is sane or insane. In the event of his being found sane he will be returned to this place to stand trial.

Massad is charged with setting fire to his own premises at Riceville for the purpose of collecting $300 insurance. He is also charged with burning a two-story building owned by Bob Lewis of that community. He was arrested in West Virginia and brought back here.

Recently Massad has refused to eat and has been in a more or less constant state of nervousness. He has had sleep for other prisoners in jail difficult because of his almost constant outcry.

Declares That Boats of State Department Are Being Used For Illegal Purposes and For Immoral Prac- tices—Senate Adopts Res- olution Ordering Im- mediate Probe.

(Associated Press—Leased Wire)
RICHMOND, Feb. 15.—Following charges by Senator Stubbs, of Mississippi, today that boats of the State Department of Game and Inland Fish not only are used for illegal purposes, but also for immoral practices, the Virginia senate adopted a joint resolution ordering an immediate investigation of the department. The resolution was introduced by Senator Stubbs, who declared that since charges had been made by Senator Stubbs to the effect that approximately $250,000 of the state's money had been expended extravagantly in the purchase of boats, the senate had passed a resolution ordering the department's report printed for the information of the senate and public.

The committee in a statement published today said that certain of the statements made, "on the floor of this Senate were incorrect." Senator Stubbs asserted, "I want to say that the committee is appointed to conduct the investigation and to prove my charges or take off my hat to the commissioner and apologize publicly."

"I want a thorough investigation. I want to know the facts that will startle the public."

"I want the boats of the department, including the Commodore Maury, brought in the investigation. I can show that these boats are not only used for illegal purposes but also for immoral practices."

Senator Willis, jumping from his seat asked:

"Since you are making such serious charges, don't you think you ought to wait until you have your oath and Commissioner Lee also is under oath and in a position to answer you on equal terms?"

"I will answer the senator by asking him to sit down until I have finished," was the reply.

The Middlesex senator then stated that he felt he should be on the committee. "Besides we have no objection on the ground that Anglo-Saxon justice did not provide for the prosecution of the matter. Senator Stubbs took the position that it was customary for the author of a resolution to be placed on the committee and that Senator Willis had defended the committee. He stated:

"I have an equal right to be on the committee," he stated.

Senator Holt, of Newport News, opposed the resolution, saying he was of the opinion the people did not want it.

"During my legislative career, I have witnessed many investigations and they don't amount to anything. It is a waste of time to make important matters before the two houses and it would not be right to take members from their seats while these are being considered."

The committee would be composed of three senators and four members of the House. After its passage it was sent to the House.

The Senate fixed the pilotage bill on by the committee on commerce and mining and the other by Senator Lester, of Norfolk city, for special order next Monday.

Another Mayoral Candidate Has the Bee Buzzing

Another mayoral candidate lurked in the offing today. He is Dr. J. A. Trent, a well-known North Danville drugist, who has been recently approached by a number of friends and urged to consider being a candidate. The Trent boom appears to have had its inception a month or more ago and it is understood that he is still being urged to allow his name to be used.

Dr. Trent was seen this morning and he was asked if it was his intention of announcing his candidacy. The North Danville man replied by saying that he has the matter under serious consideration, but that he has not yet reached any determination in the matter. He said that in all probability he would not reach a decision on the question until early in April or after the State primaries.

Friends of Dr. Trent state that there is a well-defined movement to bring him out and it was inferred to day that his postponement of a decision would not result in any let-up in urging him to announce.

to broadcast rumors which if not true were a reflection on the dead," asked Senator Lenroot.

"I thought it my patriotic duty to bring out the truth and thus discourage the rumors," was the reply.

"I was lifelong friend of Mr. Harding. I wanted to clear his memory. That was my only purpose."

Questions about the statement that the committee had dared to push the questioning of Albert B. Fall, Vandenberg said it was an impression he got from the newspapers.

The witness admitted he had not read in the newspaper that Fall had claimed constitutional immunity although that story was published prominently by practically every paper in the country.

I would not care to do that," Vandenberg said when asked for the names of some of the persons who repeated the rumor to him. He said there were so many he could not remember them all.

Senator Walsh, Democrat, Montana, opened the examination by reading the newspaper article declared in that the members of the committee had advised Chairman Lenroot to summon Vandenberg as a witness.

Chairman Lenroot endorsed Senator Walsh's statement as Vandenberg came to the stand, identifying himself as "a retired business man and banker." Chairman Lenroot read an excerpt from the Ossining speech as to "a certain Marion newspaper sold for $500,000 to two young men" under circumstances that constituted a "challenge to the last administration."

Mr. Vandenberg then began to explain that "in the first instance" some papers had misquoted him.

Rejuvenated

Prominent retired merchant says he feels like new man since Tanlac relieved him of his troubles. Can now outwalk men 20 years younger.

R. E. Boyd, 5000 Fourteenth St. N. W., Washington, D. C., for forty-eight years prominent hardware merchant in the national capital, but now retired, lends his name to further the cause of Tanlac.

"Indigestion and stomach weakness of a very pronounced type had troubled me for several months prior to last October fifteenth," said Mr. Boyd, recently, "but since that date the Tanlac treatment has made a new man of me. Now I eat heartily, never have a sign of indigestion, sleep like a log, and get up morning feeling like an athlete. Today I can outwalk men twenty years younger. Tanlac alone put me in my present fine physical condition, enabling me to get more real pleasure than ever before out of meeting and mingling with friends. Tanlac has rejuvenated me completely so to speak. It's the finest medicine I ever ran across."

"You heard it everywhere, about this story. I believe that out of respect to President Harding's memory, this scandal, for I believe it scandal, should be coldly looked at."

He said he considered it a patriotic duty to bring the thing to the surface because it was "known in every newspaper office."

"Can you give this committee information on the price paid for the paper?" Chairman Lenroot persisted. "No, not legal."

"I have heard more things about it in quarters which I respect. I've heard the price was $100,000 for a $10,000 a year to be paid a contributing editor."

Under questioning he said he understood that country papers were usually valued on a basis of 12 per cent earning power.

"The matter of the Marion Star earned around $30,000 a year," he continued, "with $60,000 in a particularly good year."

"That would justify a value of $360,000 for the paper?" Senator Lenroot interjected.

"I've heard the price paid for the paper," Mr. Vandenberg continued. "All the interferences were in those rumors that too much was paid for the paper, but I never said anybody connected with the oil business had paid any money in the transaction. I hoped that by bringing out the story, you gentlemen of this committee would get at the truth and clear the memory of President Harding."

"Did you think it likely that truth would follow on the heels of slander?" Chairman Lenroot asked.

Mr. Vandenberg insisted his purpose was to give "because rumors like those make 'reds' faster than any soviet propaganda."

Asked why he did not come to the committee first, Vandenberg said he did not assume that the oil committee was given "because rumors like those make 'reds' faster than any soviet propaganda."

"I would have this committee believe your only purpose was to clear Mr. Harding's memory?"

"It was." "I'm a life long Republican."

Chairman Lenroot read another excerpt from the speech, to the effect that the committee had failed to press the Fall examination before the ex-secretary might "peach" on other members.

Mr. Vandenberg added that he had known Fall refused to testify, claiming immunity, although that fact was published prominently in practically every paper in the country.

"Do you say these things without finding out the facts?" Chairman Lenroot thundered at the witness.

"I have some information," Mr. Vandenberg said.

Senator Adams, Democrat, Colorado, took up examination.

"How many people spoke to you concerning these rumors about the Marion Star?"

"Oh, possibly a dozen. Rumors were current in New York and Washington. They were general. Rumors were more serious than 'gossip, mere title and tattle.'"

Senator Adams asked for names of his informants.

"I don't care to give any names," Mr. Vandenberg replied.

"There were many people who did profess to know the facts. They were deeply concerned about the matter."

The request for names were pressed, but always brought the same reply.

Senator Dill, Democrat, Washington, got a further statement from the witness that under the circumstances the committee should have sought further testimony from Secretary Fall.

Vandenberg said he had never heard of any "million dollar slush fund" until he saw the headlines on it in the papers the morning.

"You were perfectly right in letting the witness go for a criminal prosecution," Mr. Vandenberg said.

He then was taken back to the Marion Star sale. This paper "would be worth more because of the President's connection," he said, "but a 12 per cent valuation" would be fair for it.

"There is another rumor, since we are chasing rumors," Senator Adams put in, "that you had a grudge against Mr. Harding."

"That is not true," Vandenberg exclaimed. "I respected him, our relations have always been pleasant. I have reverence for his memory."

"What information did you have that Fall was about to 'peach'?" Senator Walsh asked.

"I got it from a very high quarter that Fall had information that he was going to talk, now as unwarranted."

Asked if he had further criticized the committee, the banker said he had referred to "one member as being 'fanatically high-minded.'"

"I'm quite clear that what I would say to a little gathering of newsmen would not destroy the reputation of this committee," Mr. Vandenberg continued. "But since it has reached to every corner of the country I'll say that I think you've done exactly right."

Senator Walsh commented that "the matter of Marion Star purchases has come to me repeatedly, but I don't deem it my duty to proceed with it on mere 'rumor.'"

"There's a very wide difference between your speech," Chairman Lenroot put in, "and what you have said today."

"I'm familiar with what has been printed," Mr. Vandenberg said. "The reports were published in a way to make me responsible for the rumor. I repeated what the rumors said—not the rumor. I was not informed as to the facts."

He added that he "saw no reports present when the speech was delivered, but learned later that they were there."

"Only on of the New York papers printed the speech and it was suppressed in its later edition," he continued. "I wondered why they did it. I resent the declaration that I broadcast a scandal; I have broadcast the fact that there are rumors of a scandal."

When he repeated that President Harding was "gracious to me, our relations did not constitute a personal friendship, but I felt warmly toward him," Senator Bursum, Republican, New Mexico, asked "did you consider the broadcasting of a slander a friendly act?"

"I considered broadcasting the fact that slander was abroad, to get it cleared up, a friendly act," Vandenberg insisted. "I believe the facts will entirely kill the scandal."

"I don't know what Marion Star was worth. I don't know its earnings. Presumably the men who purchased it were experienced and knew their business."

Under continued pressure by committee members the banker denied that he had advanced to the New York Tribune that he was going to make a "sensational speech." A moment later conceded that he had told "a friend of the Tribune" that he

RUN DOWN RUMORS OF HUGE SLUSH FUND

(Associated Press Licensed Wire)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15.—The senate oil committee turned its attention today from the other dizzying actions evoked by its inquiry to concentrate on the reference made by Frank A. Vandenberg, New York banker, in his address at Ossining, N. Y., to the sale of the Marion Star by Warren G. Harding shortly before his death.

Mr. Vandenberg, who came here yesterday to explain his statements, was kept waiting until today while the committee followed an unexpected trail of testimony that led through the methods of former secretary Fall in putting into effect his leasing policy. It also set in motion plans to run down rumors to the effect that $1,000,000 had been deposited here as a slush fund for distribution in high places, issuing a subpoena for Edward B. McLean, publisher of the Washington Post, who was at Palm Beach, Fla., for questioning in this connection. Mr. McLean, in a telegram to his newspaper last night, said he was leaving immediately for Washington, "ready and willing to answer any questions the committee might desire to ask me."

In addition, the committee yesterday found time to instruct Chairman Lenroot to notify President Coolidge that neither Silas H. Strawn of Chicago, nor former Senator Pomerene of Ohio, was acceptable as special counsel for the government in the oil cases, and the executive withdrew the name of Mr. Strawn, but withheld action on Mr. Pomerene's nomination, saying that no conclusive evidence as to his ability had been produced.

The committee sought from Mr.

Vandenberg an explanation not only of his remarks about the sale of the Marion Star, but his statement to the effect that the investigators had not pressed their efforts to get further testimony from Mr. Fall because it was feared he would "peach" and involve men in "high places."

Decide Against Payment of Fees For Attorneys

The Police and Sheriff's Club went on record definitely yesterday afternoon at a called meeting against paying the salaries of attorneys retained to defend policemen when charges are preferred against them, out of funds from the treasury. There has been a question on the advisability of this for some time. The vote taken on the question showed the split of opinion, 18 voting against such a plan and 111 in favor of it.

The question related to attorneys fees and all other costs incidental to the trial of officers covering a long period. These cases relating to O. T. Cook, J. H. Martin, O. W. Eates and O. S. Mayberry. The amount involved in the attorney fees and other costs totalled about $1,000, according to the chief of police.

On several occasions fines imposed on policemen have been paid out of the treasury and this practice, it is understood will not be disturbed by the decision reached yesterday which related solely to the attorneys fees and damages in a civil suit. A new set of by-laws and a constitution for the club is being drawn up and will incorporate a provision in line with the decision reached at yesterday's meeting.

Old Fashioned Telephone Was Queer Apparatus

When the telephone first made its advent in Danville more than a decade before the opening of the present century, it was not the trim instrument now in use but a queer looking and intricate piece of apparatus. According to H. O. Eanes, manager of the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company, it had both transmitter and receiver, although it took an expert to distinguish between them from their construction or use. The switch at the bottom of the box had to be moved by the subscriber from ringing position to talking position and vice versa.

To prevent subscribers leaving the telegraphic facilities.

switch on the side used for talking. The hanging-up hook was braced so that the receiver could not be put on until the switch was moved to the ringing side of the box. It took something of an expert to operate one of these ancient telephones, in contrast with the simple operation of lifting the receiver from the hook today. The telephone shown in the illustration was dubbed "Williams' Coffin" because of its appearance. It was designed in 1878 by Thomas A. Watson, assistant to Alexander Graham Bell, and made by Charles Williams in Boston, Mr. Eanes said.

Another Rebel Stronghold Taken

(Associated Press Licensed Wire)

MEXICO CITY, Feb. 15.—(By Radio via the Fort Worth Star Telegram.)—The War Department announced that federal troops under General Obregon entered Guadalajara yesterday amid a shower of flowers. Guadalajara has been one of the important rebel strongholds on the western front.

General Escobar, although wounded, has ordered an immediate advance against Morelia, where the rebel generals, Estrada and Degue, are reported to have concentrated their forces. Special say that the two rebel leaders, following the rebel reverses at Palo Verde, Wednesday, joined forces at Pan Indicuro and marched upon Morelia with 800 men.

Railway headquarters report that Tuxpam has been occupied by federal forces. Official headquarters report that Tuxpam has been occupied by federal forces. Official confirmation is impossible on account of crippled telegraphic facilities.

SOCIAL ACTIVITIES

A Brilliant Social Event

One of the most brilliant social events of the season was a buffet luncheon given by Mrs. Rucker Penn and her daughter, Miss Mayzie Williams, at her beautiful home on Main street at 1 p. m. yesterday in honor of two brides-to-be and a recent bride who has already proved a charming social acquisition. The honorees were Miss Florence Boatwright, Miss Catherine James and Mrs. T. R. Perkins, Jr.

Assisting the hostesses were Bruce James, Herbert Lee Boatwright and M. H. Skadden, and Miss Marian Boatwright, Elizabeth Penn and Elisabeth Taylor.

The dining-room table had as its centerpiece a mound of Hadley roses, with freesia and maiden-hair ferns, while in the drawing-room, living room and sun parlor were beautiful art-bowls filled with freesia and the handsome Hadley roses, their rich crimson hue glowing against the environment of foliage and blossom, while the illumination was provided from red candles in silver candlesticks.

Coffee was served in the hall from a table also adorned with the Hadley roses.

Among the out-of-town guests enjoying Mrs. and Miss Penn's hospitality were R. P. Richardson, Sr., and daughter, Miss Margaret; Mrs. F. B. Kemp and daughter, Miss Evelyn; Mrs. John Dillard Watt, of Greensboro, N. C.; Mrs. C. J. Williamson, of Greensboro, N. C.; Mrs. C. Jordan, Jr., of Burlington, N. C.; Mrs. Holmes Penn, of Greensboro, N. C.; Mrs. Robert Vaughan and daughter, Miss Margaret Vaughan; Mrs. Smith Richardson, Mrs. T. Connolly Guernsey, Mrs. William B. Hill, Mr. Aubrey Brooks and Miss Jessie Myers, of Greensboro, N. C.; Mrs. Harry J. Penn and Mrs. Howard L. Penn, of Madison, N. C.; Mrs. Harry Spencer, Mrs. Kennon Wittle, Mrs. John L. Shackelford, and Mrs. J. Conrad Kearfott, of Martinsville, guests of Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Boatwright.

A delightful menu was served. Socially the occasion was one of unusual enjoyment and elegant in all its appointments.

Dinner at Country Club

Mr. and Mrs. W. Tredway Graves were hostesses at a charming dinner at the Danville Country Club last night given for Miss Florence Boatwright and her bridal party. Covers were laid for fifteen, the guests including Mr. Underhill, of New York; Mrs. Frances Dall, of Greenville, S. C.; Miss Ethel Moss, Boston, Mass.; Mrs. Kenneth Royal, Miss Alice Boatwright, Miss Marian Boatwright, Mrs. Harry Jamerson, of Louisville, Ky.; Mr. John Weedy, of H. L. Boatwright, Jr., of Princeton University; Mrs. Robert Allen, of Lynchburg; Mr. and Mrs. John G. Boatwright; Miss Florence Boatwright, the bride-elect; and Mr. Robert Hawley Sanford, the bridegroom-to-be.

The centerpiece of the dining-table was contrived of white roses and freesia illuminated by green candles. The place cards were miniature wedding-bells tied with tulle.

Two Pretty Weddings Yesterday

A very pretty wedding was performed at the home of Rev. J. C. Holland, West Main street, yesterday afternoon when Miss Annie B. Cooper, of Burlington, N. C., became the bride of Mr. J. K. Hurdle, also of Burlington.

The dining room of the pastor's home where the ceremony was performed was beautifully decorated and beauty and simplicity marked the occasion. Rev. J. C. Holland was the officiating minister. Mrs. Hurdle is a well-known and popular young lady of the Burlington social world. The groom is a successful merchant of his home town, Mr. Walter Jefferson, local merchant and a friend of the groom was an attendant at the wedding. Immediately following the marriage the bride and groom left for a motor trip through Florida. Mr. and Mrs. Hurdle make their future home at Burlington, N. C.

Another marriage performed yesterday by Rev. Holland was that of Miss Elizabeth Gormack, of Chicago, Ill., to Mr. Jesse J. Case, of Hendersonville, N. C. Mrs. Case is a registered

GUNMEN, POSING AS OFFICERS, ROB MEN

CLEVELAND, Feb. 14.—Irving Liverman, salesman for a Rochester, N. Y. jewelry store, reported to the authorities that he had been robbed today of diamonds valued at between $50,000 and $50,000 by three men who pretended to be officers.

Liverman, returning from Cleveland to Toledo with his wife, was stopped by three men in uniform. One of the men, who Liverman said was a captain, ordered him to get into the touring car in which Liverman and his wife were driving.

"You're going 45 miles an hour," the robber said, reaching into his pocket, presumably for a pencil and pad. Instead he drew a revolver and forced Liverman and his wife into the back seat of the latter's touring car. After robbing the two owners of the sum of $50,000 in cash, the bandits commanded them to walk across the field, jumped into their car and departed in the direction of Toledo.

The bandits had hardly disappeared

HEALTHY WOMEN, HAPPY HOMES

Good dispositions succumb, irritability and snappy retorts take the place of happiness and amiability. Sunshine is driven out of homes, in fact, they are often wrecked and in fact, they are often wrecked and friends are estranged because women suffer with ailments peculiar to their sex. The use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will, over a course of time, remove all such strong stimulants or narcotics when this great strengthening, healing remedy made from roots and herbs is always within reach.—adv.

TO REPORT BREAD AND MILL PROFITS

(By The Associated Press.)
WASHINGTON, Feb. 14.—Recommendation that the Senate adopt a resolution directing the Secretary of the treasury to report the profits of all baking and milling companies are disclosed by their tax returns from 1918 to the present time is made in a report submitted today by Basil M. Manley, director of the People's Legislative Service, to Senator LaFollette, of Wisconsin, chairman of the organization.

The report said to have been submitted also the "other progressive senators and representatives" as outlined in a letter from Mr. Manley to Senator LaFollette, charge that as a result of outrageous profiteering the American people are now paying more than a million dollars a day too much for their bread.

HALF-MILLION

Mrs. Emanuel Modica of Brooklyn, N. Y., has filed suit for $500,000 damages against the Countess Roger de Perigny (above), who married the Count de Perigny last November. The countess, it is alleged, alienated Mrs. Modica's husband's affections.

OBREGON MAY HAVE WALKED INTO TRAP

(By The Associated Press.)
FRONTIER, Tabasco, Feb. 14.—(By radio via the Dallas News.)—The rear guard of the federal forces in the vicinity of Guadalajara have been attacked by revolutionary troops under Generals Estrada and Dieguez, according to the official statement of revolutionary activities issued today by Cullio Gonzalez, chief of the department of publicity under de la Huerta. It was asserted the statement was based on intercepted messages from Mexico City to points in the United States. At the time the message was intercepted it was said the federal had not yet entered Guadalajara and the attack on the rear guard was expected to delay President Obregon's return to the capital for several days.

According to the revolutionary headquarters the intercepted messages indicated there were considerable numbers of rebel sympathizers in Mexico City who believed President Obregon may be in a trap set for him by Generals Estrada and Dieguez. The statement also declared that the American had presented "claims to the Obregon government for forced loans which is the imposition the troops have been placing on foreigners because of the lack of funds in the national treasury."

GANG OF INTERNATIONAL JEWEL THIEVES TRAPPED

(By The World-Wide News Service Inc.)

PARIS, Feb. 15.—Gradually the more expert and dangerous combinations of jewel thieves who work on an international scale are being broken up. It is not so many months ago that the notorious "Bludge" Bill Warren gang was effectively placed out of business by the combined skill of the British and French police. Now the organized police forces of six countries are on the fair way to writing "finis" across the career of another notorious combine responsible for many audaciously-conceived robberies in Continental cities. Co-operating together, the police of Britain, Germany, Holland, Switzerland, France and America have already succeeded in running to earth two of the leaders of this organization. The breakup of the rest of the gang, now left without a controlling mind, is anticipated.

Only now, after the lapse of a month, has it been proved that the armed robber who was shot dead while attempting, in company with several other men, to rifle a jeweler's premises in Bale, Switzerland, was none other than the head of this international rank.

Art Treasures Recovered. He has been identified as a German, Walter Brachman, who was interned in America during the war. Within a very short time he appears to have turned his attentions to crime and rallied around him a clever and daring body of thieves who are now believed to have been the perpetrators of many mysterious jewel robberies throughout the world.

Brachman's right-hand man, Fritz Hausman, was arrested soon after Brachman's death, and in the residences of both men in Germany were found the proceeds of many robberies, precious stones as well as art treasures, the perpetrators of which had never been traced.

Hausman has given to the police a full and detailed account of the gang's ramifications and robberies, and supplied much interesting material about the double life of Brachman, the chief.

Brachman was a draughtsman by profession, spoke several languages, including French and English, very fluently and with little accent. Upon his return to Germany after his period of internment was over, he, according to Hausman, found that there was little money to be made in the ordinary way, and began to lead a criminal life.

Very soon he was in an affluent position, and had come into contact with others of his kind, who were only too willing to join in with him in the realization of his ambitious schemes. Seldom did Brachman personally carry out burglaries after he had attained the position of chief of this gang.

A Profitable Vacation. Had he followed this rule he might yet be at large. This haul at Bale was, however, to be a big affair, and Brachman deemed that his help was required on the spot. A bullet put an end to his career.

Walter Groves and Harry Glover were two of the many aliases he used. Under one of these names he stayed at a certain select West End of London hotel, where he was generally presumed to be a gentleman traveling the world in search of art treasures for his collection.

Glover, to give him the name by which he was known, was a "collector" all right—a type the police would have liked to lay hands on.

His last visit to London was on August 22 of last year, and immediately the attention of the police in the city and the Midlands was occupied by several mysterious robberies of jewels and art treasures, including an amazing theft of gemstones at railway station, and the theft of $80,000 worth of jewellery from a Bishopsgate jewellers in London.

There can be no doubt, apart from Hausman's statement, that the "uncolon" in England was a very profitable one, for, upon returning to Germany, via Holland, Glover placed the sum of $225,000 in a bank at the Hague.

Although his lieutenant cannot give much information to the police in this respect, there is every reason to believe that in various banks all over Europe Glover had a large store of money to his credit, deposited under different names.

These hoards the police are endeavoring to trace, since they are believed to run into a considerable sum. The police are also endeavoring to trace the whereabouts of the stolen goods. Probably that accounted for the visit to the villa in Germany; the value of the articles in which is estimated at $50,000.

Brothers Settle Argument With Duel; Both Dead

(Associated Press Licensed Wire)

WHITESBURG, Ky., Feb. 15.—Bob and Sam Bates, brothers, residents of the Troublesome Creek section, invoked 45 calibre law to settle their quarrel and today both are dead.

Enmity between the brothers was said to have been caused by a disagreement concerning settlement of an estate, including some valuable coal and timber land, left by their father. Finally, after friends had prevented gun play on more than one occasion, Sam, a boy of seventeen, was said to have sent word to Bob that he would give him $100 to come into the vicinity of the younger brother's residence.

Bob accepted the offer. The brothers met on a Laurel-Frizzled mountain trail. They drew and fired—and missed. Now the sights were perfectly aligned. A second roar from the heavy weapons and both duelists dropped, fatally wounded.

A third Bates brother, Uriah, is serving a life sentence in state prison for the murder of Elijah Sargent, who was slain near his home on Indian Creek in 1920. Bob was under indictment in connection with the Sargent slaying and was to have been tried in April.

Man Is Held For Killing Daughter, Also a Stepchild

(By The Associated Press)

JOHNSON CITY, Tenn., Feb. 15.—Charles Hawkins of Oklahoma Station Tennessee, today is held in the Elizabethtown jail, charged with slaying his daughter, Nancy Hawkins, five years old, and his stepdaughter, Rose Leavelle, twelve years old, and then burning his home in an effort to destroy the bodies. Hawkins denies the charges.

Physicians examining the bodies after being taken from the building, said they had been murdered before the fire started, which resulted in the arrest of Hawkins. He testified he was awakened by the flames and at once tried to rescue the girls. It is alleged, officials charge, that he carried insurance on the lives of both girls.

Committee Takes Up Objections of Secretary Hughes

(Associated Press Licensed Wire)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15.—The House Immigration Committee today took up the objections expressed by Secretary Hughes to "provisions of the Johnson bill which single out Japanese immigrants for exclusion" and to certain other restrictive proposals in the measure.

Mr. Hughes, in a letter to Chairman Johnson, declared the provisions affecting Japanese immigration were "inconsistent" with the treaty of 1911 between the United States and Japan and added that their enactment might "largely undo" the effects of the Washington Arms Conference which so greatly improved our relations with the Tokio government.

PLIGHT OF THE FARMER BLAMED ON GOVERNMENT

Hi Johnson, In Speech, Declares It Must Seek to Remedy Wrong.

(By The Associated Press)

CHARLESTON, Illinois, Feb. 15.—The government is responsible for the plight of the farmer and must itself see to remedy a part of its wrong, declared Senator Hiram Johnson, of California, candidate for the presidential nomination, in a campaign speech here today.

Appeals to the farmer to plant more wheat met with a generous and patriotic response, and he is told that he must help himself or return to diversified farming, Senator Johnson said. Low prices uniting with high cost of operation are throttling agriculture, he asserted.

The farmers have the right to ask his government for protection, he said. "He is entitled to the same generosity the government extends to manufacturers and railroads. If governmental action can bring him relative prices between the commodities he produces and those he has to purchase, he should have it."

Senator Johnson said that the McNary-Haugen bill now pending in Congress aims to restore a ratio price on the principal staples, so that a bushel of wheat, a pound of beef or a pound of pork may have the same purchasing power as in the pre-war period. He contended the plan was not governmental price-fixing, for it was intended to be self-supporting without burden on the treasury, except for the initial revolving fund for the export corporation.

"Of course the government alone cannot bring full prosperity to the farming regions," the California Senator said, "but it can give the farmer a fair chance to win, in his long struggle for equity."

"Diversification, where possible, higher tariff, lower freight, all may be of some service, but of all the plans, the most promising now seems the McNary bill."

Petersburg Man Dies In Miami

(Associated Press Licensed Wire)

PETERSBURG, Va., Feb. 15.—Charles Frederick Lauterbach, 64 years old, a prominent Petersburg jeweler, died suddenly last night in Miami, Fla., according to word received here this morning by his family. Mr. Lauterbach was one of the oldest jewelers in Petersburg, having started in business here forty-seven years ago. He left Petersburg last Saturday and announcement of his death came as a complete surprise to his family.

Tunney and Burke Ready For Bout

(Associated Press Licensed Wire)

NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 15.—Gene Tunney, of New York, light heavyweight champion pugilist, and Martin Burke, of New Orleans, today were pronounced in fit condition for their 15-round bout at the Coliseum Arena, N. Y.

The fight staged by the Young Men's Gymnastic club, will be the first championship bout held since Gene defended his title against Frankie Burns many years.

Tunney will enter the ring at about 175 pounds and Burke one pound heavier.

HAIR OFTEN RUINED BY CARELESS WASHING

Soap should be used very carefully. If you want to keep your hair looking its best. Many soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much free alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle and ruins it.

The best thing for steady use is Mul-sified coconut oil shampoo, which is pure and greaseless and is better than anything else you can use.

Two or three teaspoonfuls is sufficient to cleanse the hair and scalp thoroughly. Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, which rinses out easily, removing every particle of dust, dirt, dandruff and excess oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves the scalp, soft, and the hair fine and silky, bright, lustrous, fluffy, wavy, and easy to manage.

You can get Mul-sified coconut oil shampoo at any drug store; it is inexpensive, and a few ounces will supply every member of the family for months.—adv.

Well-Known Greensboro Citizen Cries Like Baby, Travels Like a Whirlwind After Taking 2 Doses of Nanzetta's Prescription.

"On February 9th I bought a bottle of Nanzetta's Prescription and one bottle of Indian New Discovery from Five Points Drug Co. About four weeks ago I was down with rheumatism. I called a doctor, but seemed to get no relief. For the past three weeks I've only worked one to two days out of a week. I saw where Nanzetta's Remedies were highly praised by different ones and I told my wife if I lived until Saturday I was going to buy a bottle, as there might be some chance for me. My knees were swollen terribly, and when I sat down I could hardly get up. After taking the first dose of medicine the swelling and pain moved into my ankles. The second dose it moved from my ankles to my shoulder, and the pain was so severe I could not sleep. Part of the time I walked the streets and cried like a baby, something I haven't done since childhood. Different ones told me to take aspirin tablets but I knew that it would only relieve my pain for a short while. But I wanted to be cured. I finally went to sleep early in the morning and got up and found my right hand and five fingers swollen but with very little pain. I kept taking Nanzetta's Prescription and bathing my hand with Indian New Discovery to keep the pain down.

I saw an announcement in the paper that Nanzetta would be at Cline's Drug Company Tuesday, the 12th, and I went down to see him around 11 o'clock and told him what had happened. He found where I had taken one-half tablespoon too much as the dose is one tablespoonful, and I had taken one and a half. I showed my hand to Nanzetta and Dr. Harvey Cline, and then Nanzetta took me over to the studio to have a picture taken of both hands.

Wednesday the swelling in my hands had gone down about 55 per cent, and there was no pain whatever. I am satisfied I'll be in shape to go to work within the next few days. I am a colored man, but must tell the truth about the Great Medicine. I've been living in Greensboro for the past 15 years, have been working for the Wylson Miles Machine Works for seven years as a fireman. I own my own home and belong to three lodges: K. of P., Uniform Rank K. of P., and Independent Order of St. Luke.

U. S. PRODUCES 85 PER CENT. OF THE MOVIES

Pictures Carry to Foreign Lands Impression of American Life—England
Doesn't Like It.

By ROBERT T. SMALL
(Copyright, 1924, by The Bee)
NEW YORK, Feb. 15.—Will H. Hayes has had a great responsibility placed on him. It is one of the greatest responsibilities, as a matter of fact ever placed on anyone.

American moving pictures are "Americanizing" the world. The pictures are carrying to the far peoples of the earth their impression of American life, American civility, American marriage laws, American divorces, American wildness, the whole colorful fabric of America as it is today.

The United States is producing 85 per cent. of all the moving pictures made in the world.

The nearest rival to the United States, England, has shown during the past year a rapidly diminishing number of productions and the industry in the United Kingdom is said to be headed for the rocks. One of the biggest concerns, working under a subsidy from wealthy men who had become interested in the project from an empire point of view, has just abandoned the fight for existence. It is admitted that the British producing companies cannot meet the competition of American films.

American films pay for themselves in America. What the producers can pick up in England and other foreign countries is just so much velvet. The British producers have cried out often for government help against the American films, or a prohibitive import duty. So far, however, their efforts have failed to avail anything to the dying industry in the British Isles. The "cinemas" must have films and the American ones are those from which the biggest profits can be made. It is the present task of Will Hayes to impress upon the producers of this country and especially upon the actors the responsibilities which rest upon them as a result of the widespread distribution of their films.

America's reputation before the world at large is at stake. Great Britain is regretting the fact that her colonies and dominions are virtually all of their films from the United States. Great Britain does not like to "Americanize" effect of this situation.

Mr. Hayes feels there is a great deal more than mere financial recompense in sending American films abroad. Producers should study the effect their plays will have upon foreign minds. Many things easily understood by an American audience may be misinterpreted abroad to the detriment of this country. Public opinion is a fickle thing, always to be handled with gloves. The influence of the United States in world affairs easily may be exalted or destroyed by the character of the films sent from this country for the entertainment and enlightenment of foreign peoples.

Instead of "dumping" inferior and loosely censored films on the foreign market, it is felt the producers of this country should use the extreme of care to see that nothing goes abroad which in any way reflects upon this country or takes unfair advantage of other countries.

It is admitted that sometimes the problem is a difficult one. Complaint comes from abroad that in the American films the American man always is the hero, while the villain generally is a foreigner. More, more or less formally protested some time ago against the policy of always making the "bad man" a "greaser" from below the Rio Grande. Japan, too, has felt ill treated by some of the films. Englishmen are said to be east in such a way as to bring something of contempt upon them. The bill of particulars is a long one. Yet American producers do not want to make all of their villains American for then the world would get the impression that this country is far too full of villains. The statistics as to American dominance of the moving picture field are most impressive and are trying to teach the producers just what the psychological meaning of it all is.

Jilted, Pair to Wed Each Other

(By Chicago Tribune Service.)

NEW YORK, Feb. 15.—Although lacking in confirmation from New York relatives of the principals, New York society and Broadway today credited Paris reports that Mrs. Grace Sands Coffin, recently jilted by Count Salm von Hoogstraeten, and George Burton, jilted about two years ago by Miss Charlotte Gardiner Demarest, have decided to find consolation in marriage to each other.

Both are New Yorkers and victims of the impetuous love-making of Counts. In May, 1922, Burton was informed by telephone on the day before that on which his wedding was scheduled, that Count Edward George Zichy, scion of the noted Hungarian family of that name, had eloped with his bride-to-be.

The elopement of Count Salm and Miss Millmont Rogers, the $10,000,000 Standard Oil heiress, is fresher in the minds of society, having occurred but a month ago.

Count Salm and his bride are now in Switzerland, en route to his mother's ancestral estate in Austria. They recently passed a week in Paris and several times barely missed meeting Mrs. Coffin in cafes there.

Burton has spent most of the last two years in the French capital. The son of the late Max Bernheimer, brewer, he had his name changed during the world war. For several years he was one of Broadway's best known spenders and when he came into his $4,000,000 estate gave a now famous "Oriental party", a Domonic.

Burton's mother, Mrs. Frederick Houseman, wife of a Wall Street broker, could not be reached tonight, but her mother, Mrs. N. Steinam, at the Ambassador Hotel, gave no credence to the Paris report. Mrs. Henry Eglington Montgomery, mother of Mrs. Coffin, said she doubted the reported engagement.

Arrest Four As "Outsiders" In Jail Delivery Attempt

(By The Associated Press.)

PITTSBURGH, Feb. 15.—Police are planning their hope of uncovering the ring involved in the conspiracy to effect a general jail delivery at the western Penitentiary here Monday on the arrest of four persons, two of them young women, and two men, both former convicts.

Following a day and a night of grilling by the city homicide squad, officials expressed the belief that the women were the "go-betweens" who carried information to the convicts who rioted, killing two prison guards and the men who smugged the arms and dynamite inside the prison walls. The two men, they say, had a prominent part in getting the guns and explosive to the rioters.

Annie Finner, alias Mrs. French, who was arrested with Mrs. Mollie Pfeiffer, said to be the wife of a convicted taxicab driver, and Pero Curato and Fred Daugherty are the four being held.

The outlook for good business conditions in the next six months, judging from the old reliable weather, the iron and steel industry, pig iron production in January showed an increase over the month before. Apparently the industry is recovering from the slumping tendency that started last June. Pig iron output traditionally rises or falls six months ahead of general business.

LIQUOR

There are 100,000 bootleggers in America and they are all doing well. I should say the government is losing two million dollars a year in duty that it might have if it distributed mail, had other liquor. Spencer Penrose, Colorado capitalist. Penrose unquestionably is correct in both figures. If prohibition had been attempted by a government tax of $5 on a quart, Uncle Sam would have in his treasury the billions that have been cleaned up by bootleggers. Some would rather be without the billions than have Sam in the saloon business, of which he was the silent partner, collecting revenue for generations.

CONTAGIOUS

Let of use about a New Jersey man, a "typhoid carrier" who, according to doctors, caused nine deaths and 107 cases of the disease. A "typhoid carrier" is a person who has the disease and can spread it to others without noticing any illness himself. People have an instinctive dread of anyone with a contagious disease. It'd be easy to stir up a riot about this fellow in New Jersey. The riot would yawn and walk away if urged to exterminate rats, which spread more disease than all human beings combined.

MRS. JULIA A. KEARNS DIES THIS MORNING

Mrs. Julia A. Kearns died at 12:30 o'clock this (Friday) morning at the residence of her daughter, Mrs. F. L. Douthat, Virginia avenue, where she had spent the past eighteen months. She was the wife of the late Emory B. Kearns, of Asheboro, N. C., who died in 1912. Mrs. Kearns is survived by an only daughter, Mrs. F. L. Douthat, and by six grandchildren—Mrs. Robert A. Benton, of this city; Mrs. Elliott Swineford and Mrs. R. E. Wilson, of Drewry's Bluff, Va.; the Rev. H. T. Kearns, of Baltimore; Miss Fielding Lewis Douthat and Robert Douthat, of this city. Mrs. Kearns had been growing more and more feeble for several years, but, except for the natural infirmities of age, was seemingly in usual health until Thursday morning, when her heart weakened and its action finally ceased. Mrs. Douthat and Mrs. Benton were at her bedside during her last hours. The burial will be at Asheboro, N. C., on Saturday.

TIME LIMIT EXTENDED

(By the Associated Press) WASHINGTON, Feb. 14.—The internal revenue bureau today announced an extension to June 15 of the date for filing tax returns of the 1923-24 year. Representations had been made by many concerns that they could not complete the returns in time to file by March 15.

MOTHERS

Permanent peace can come only by a banding together of mothers, who furnish the cannon-fodder, orator Mrs. Felix Levy of Chicago. She's on the right track. But the remedy is not in any special organization of mothers. What they should do is stop giving their children toys that suggest war, and teach them to hate war as a system of wholesale murder whose "glory" is propaganda bunk of the militarists. Schools, glorifying war, also perpetuate war.

FAILED

Nearly 3,000 business concerns failed in January, and their combined liabilities exceeded assets by 46 million dollars. These big losses, of course, are eventually butted out over the whole country and spread on the average family's cost of living. The January loss will cost the average family at least $5 eventually. It took some months after months, Wall Street is close to the kitchen door.

HEININ

You read about impoverished Germany. Turn to the financial page and you learn that our country last year sold Germany 158 million dollars worth of goods more than she shipped us in exchange. To help pay the difference, Germany shipped us a lot of gold. But this gold still leaves Germany 100 million dollars in debt to us for 1923. It's all right to be generous to a conquered enemy. But whose money is being used to finance the sale to Germany of more than she can pay? American exporters are not making the loans, you can bet on that. Some foreign exchange bankers probably know.

MATINEE AND NIGHT

AL. G. Field Minstrels at the Majestic, Tuesday, February 19th.

The afterpiece of the 1923-1924 production of the justly famous AL. G. Field Minstrels is entitled "Luray Caverns," a geographical setting for one of the most fascinating bits of migrant finale entertainment ever staged. Settings, electrical effects and the many novelties and innovations that have been provided for this unusual act make it one of the real sensations of the current season. William Doran's Fancy Steppers have important parts to play in this number, which has for its background a reproduction of the famous Luray Caves in Virginia.

As an extra enticement in this number Jack Richards, the famous golden tenor of the Field organization, will be featured in a singing number with special effects which make it a worthy successor to last year's "Holy City," a novelty which created more admiring comment than has anything provided in minstrelsy during more than a decade. The name of this particular song novelty is "The Door of Hope."

The Field show comes to the Majestic, Tuesday, February 19th, for matinee and night performances. Reserve seat sale opens today.

(By Chicago Tribune Service) LONDON, Feb. 14.—Mrs. Teirast, world famous opera singer, left for Italy. She sailed to London today a postponement on a concert which was to have been given here on February 19.

First 1924 Nominee For President

By ALEXANDER HERMAN
SEA Service Staff Writer.

NEWARK, N. J., Feb. 15.—The first presidential nominee for the 1924 race has stolen a lap on the field. He is William J. Wallace, named as the standard bearer of the Commonwealth Land Party, formerly the Single Tax Party. His running mate is J. C. Lincoln, of Cleveland, selected for the vice-presidency without any opposition.

At the party's national convention, in the Engineering Societies Building in New York, delegates from 14 States, among them Alabama, California, Massachusetts, New Jersey, New York, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Oklahoma and Rhode Island—named their candidates, drew up their platform, and started right off after votes while the members of the major parties are still juggling around for delegates to the nominating conventions.

They expect to campaign in 35 States and poll 750,000 votes! Which is some improvement over the several hundred votes tallied in 1912, when Wallace ran for the first time.

It was his rebut in politics, and his party's entry into the national field. "We called it the Land Value Party then," he recounts smiling, "and had less than 15 workers in the group. We couldn't get our names printed on the ballots so we wrote them on ourselves."

"But this year it will be different," Wallace is a kindly man, 54 years old, who is a manufacturer of electric motors, when he isn't studying up on the land question. He was born on the West Side of New York, and started work when he was 15.

"I never gave politics much thought," he went on. "I was too busy making a living. But the panic of 1873, unemployment and poverty with its consequences, set me thinking about the precariousness of our situations."

"I wanted to know what brought such conditions about. I wanted to find out how they could be avoided. But I couldn't find out what I was looking for. My teacher at night school couldn't help me. The books I read didn't enlighten me, until one day I ran across Henry George's 'Progress and Poverty'."

"I found the answer. It lay in the solution of our land problem. 'From 1835, when I first read the book, until 1910 I did nothing politically. I voted, of course, casting my ballots for those candidates who I thought I should support.'

"But in 1910 a group headed by Joseph M. Darling, a former assistant district attorney of New York, got together at a conference and founded the Land Value Tax Party."

"It was named its candidate in the 1913 election."

"Darling's death in 1916 put a crimp to the party's activities in the next presidential campaign."

"But in 1920 we put up candidates in 14 States. The name of the party had been changed to the Single Tax Party, and Robert C. Macaulay of Philadelphia was named the presidential candidate."

"We polled some 50,000 votes. 'But we are going to get many more this year.'"

"The name was changed again. 'For the Commonwealth Land Party,' says Wallace, 'better explains our idea than the Single Tax.'"

This party would free one and of the country from private ownership, and by renting it lift the burden of taxation from the people.

"All evils arising out of our unjust economic conditions," says its platform, "such as business depressions, hard times, unemployment, poverty and the fear of poverty, bad housing conditions and the crime, vice and diseases due to these conditions are the result of the private ownership of the earth and the appropriation of its products by the few."

"War and strife, now and always due to economic maladjustment, would disappear with the elimination of private ownership of land, which has ever been the basis and the cause of all the world's economic troubles."

St. Louis, Feb. 14.—The St. Louis Post-Dispatch today publishes an article that the Ku Klux Klan held an evangelistic service in the hall of the House of Representatives of the State Capitol at Jefferson last Sunday. The Post-Dispatch asserted the meeting was "designed to attract outsiders to its membership," adding that it was arranged by Heber Nations, state labor commissioner.

AUCTION SALES GETTING LIGHTER

Sales of tobacco at auction in this city during the past week have been so light as to indicate clearly the beginning of the end of the 1923-24 season. The sales in all seven houses have been comparatively light throughout the week the sum total disposed of for the week ending last night being less than a million pounds. It is anticipated that farmers who have "acrappy" mixtures still to be marketed will lose no further time in ridding themselves of remnants and sales will probably become lighter each week between now and March 14th when the auction season will come to an official close.

Statistics prepared and issued by the Danville Tobacco Association last night showed a drop in the average as well as in the quantity received. The sales totaled $34,406 pounds sold for $198,577.80 the average price being $13.81 per hundred pounds. The week's sales bring the total for the season to 32,118,655 pounds disposed of for $7,674,932.75, the average price being $23.31.

DIAMOND JUBILEE

KNIGHTS OF PYTHIAS

The observance of the Diamond Jubilee celebrating the sixtieth anniversary of the founding of the order of Knights of Pythias will be held at Castle Hall, Tuesday February 19th at 8 p. m.

An interesting program has been arranged and a large gathering of the fraternity is assured. Speeches of the order will be made by Rev. J. Cleveland Hall, Harry Wooding, Jr., Rev. J. C. Holland and H. C. Leigh.

The meetings of Phoenix Lodge recently have been largely attended and great interest is being manifested in the work being carried on.

It will be of interest to the local as well as surrounding lodges that the dramatic order Knights of Khorassan will hold a ceremonial here this fall during the Grand Lodge convention. This order is the playground of Pythianism and will bring with them the Drum and Bugle corp and uniformed drill team of Rajah Temple No. 195, of Roanoke, Va.

Prominent Pythians from various sections are expected at that time.

HEPLIN DENIES ANY BELATION WITH KU KLUX KLAN

WASHINGTON, Feb. 14.—A flat denial that he was or ever had been a member of the Ku Klux Klan was made in the Senate today by Senator Heplin, Democrat, Alabama, in the course of an address regarding his proposed investigation of alleged land frauds in Texas.

"I am not a member of and have never been a member of the Ku Klux Klan," Senator Heplin said.

"Further, I have never had any special with members of the Ku Klux Klan that would constitute a basis for investigation of any kind for two months."

A witness in an English police court gave his occupation as a "professional hypothesizer." He explained he pawned goods on commission.

Tries Kellogg's Bran—restores health after 12 years of intense suffering

Mr. Firth writes that he suffered for 12 years from constipation and his friend for 10 years—a total of 22 years' suffering permanently relieved by Kellogg's Bran, cooked and krumbled.

Constipation: For 12 years I had been troubled with indigestion caused mostly by constipation. Until about a year ago, I would suffer from 4 to 20 weeks at a time.

I happened to see your Krumbled Bran in a store, purchased a package and got almost immediate relief. I am still eating the Krumbled Bran every day.

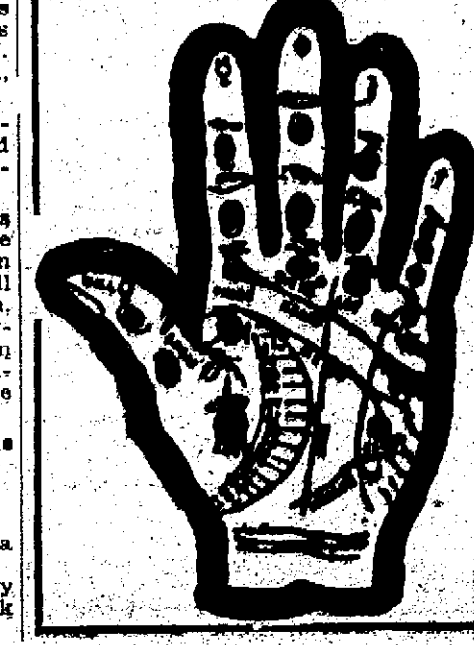

The most wonderful results obtained with your Krumbled Bran I will now relate. A gentleman who has been taking medicine for about 14 years for constipation could not find anything to give him relief. There was one I advised him to try Krumbled Bran, so I had told him what wonderful results I had gotten from it. The gentleman in question purchased a box and he told me that for the first time in ten years he is regular without taking medicine.

Yours for progress,

William Firth, Jr., 26 Value St., Manchester, N. H.

Eaten regularly, Kellogg's Bran is guaranteed to relieve the most chronic case of constipation, as your grocer returns your money. Eat two table-spoonfuls daily—in chronic cases, with every meal. The flavor is delicious. Try it in the recipe on every package. Made in Battle Creek. Sold by all grocers.

Nausea

"In 1919 I got very ill. I was in bed off and on for five months," says Mrs. Woodie Wheeler, of Athens, Texas. "Nothing seemed to do me any good. I tried many different things but none of them would check my trouble. My . . . stood for five months."

"Finally when I was in despair as to myself, a lady friend passed by my home one evening when I had been in bed for several days and was very blue. She recommended Cardui to me. She said she had been helped by it when she had suffered with female trouble, so as a last resort I made up my mind to try it. I sent to the store for a bottle and began to take it. After I had taken one bottle I could tell that I was better. I had been sick at my stomach and it settled that. Nausea had been one of my worst troubles and I was so thankful to be relieved of it. When I finished the third bottle I was entirely relieved of my trouble. . . . My appetite improved and I began to gain in weight. I continued the use of the medicine until I had taken six bottles. I gained weight from 110 to 150 pounds. I could eat anything and enjoy it. . . . I have not had a return of the trouble."

"I was saved an operation by the use of Cardui, and after I had taken the six bottles I felt like a woman made over, new. I can't recommend the medicine too highly, for it probably saved my life. I could not have lasted long the way I was wasting away when I first began to take Cardui."

Sold by all druggists.

Richmond Spiders Defeat Tiger Team

(Special to The Bee)

HAMPDEN-SIDNEY, Va., Feb. 15.—In a fast clean game full of thrills, the Richmond Spiders doubled up the score on the Hampden-Sidney Tigers last night in the Graham gymnasium.

Both teams played a fast and clean game of ball and showed exceptional good guarding. The game was not at all rough as would be expected when these two factions come together but was as fast a game as is generally seen.

This is the second win for the Spiders this season, but both games were hard fought. The Tigers attempted a good deal more shots than they rung up and during the second half only making one field goal. The second half seems to be their limit.

When the whistle blew for the half the two teams were neck and neck, the score indicating this, 9 to 8 in Richmond's favor. Richmond scored three of their points by fouls and the Tigers made two free throws, indicating that they both were taking measure for measure. Sharp passing and dribbling was the feature for each quint and some of the best playing witnessed on the floor this year was displayed in this half, both teams seemed to be in good shape and the game didn't slow up in the least, but as the time passed the playing became the faster and more interesting.

Captain Fray for the Spiders was the high light of the game, ringing up three field goals and playing a brilliant floor game.

Miller also made three goals from the floor. The entire Hampden-Sidney team played a fast game and from their poor shooting in the final period would have substantiated their excellent playing. The line-up is as follows:

Hampden-Sidney: Pos. Uni. of Rd. Sager. Forward. Fray. Adkins. Center. DeMotte. Carden. Miller. Dudley. Bethel. Guard.

Summary Substitutions: Richmond—Sanford for DeMotte. Hampden-Sidney—Fleming for Carden, Tyson for Sager.

Field goals: Sager 1, Parker 1, Adkins 1, Carden 1, Bell 1, Fray 2, Miller 2.

Foul goals: Harper 1, Carden 2, Bell 2, Fray 2, Miller 2. Referee: E. C. Rousdy. F. A. C. N. Timekeeper: Dudley.

The Sportsman By Walter Camp

(Copyright, 1924, by The Bee)

NEW YORK, Feb. 15.—The high cost of golfing, about which the writer has spoken frequently of late, is coming down—in spots. The Oakland Hills Club, where the national open will be played this coming summer, built an 18 hole course about six years ago which cost, including its water system, $75,000. Now the club has built another course using plans by the same architect, which cost only $17,000, exclusive of the water system. Assuming this will add about $8,000 to the total there is a saving of about $60,000. And so far as can be learned, there were no harder construction problems in the old course than in the new one.

Another example is found in the Gowanle golf and country club in the same district. This club installed a water system, built seven entirely new greens, and maintained its 18 hole course during 1923 at a total cost of $11,000.

DANVILLE HIGH AT BIG END IN GAME VS. MARTINSVILLE

The Danville High basketball team won from the Martinsville High team at the Municipal hall last night. The local team walked away with the Martinsville boys at the end of the half the score stood 16 to 4 in Danville's favor.

The second team was sent in for the last half and held the Martinsville boys to 9 points. The second team was about an even match for the visitors, who played hard during the whole game. The game was somewhat slow, but the local boys had little trouble in piling up their score. At the final whistle the score stood 25 to 9 in Danville's favor.

The Danville boys will go to Lynchburg Saturday. The Hill City team won from Danville by a 20 to 19 score here recently, and a hard game is expected by the team.

This information Ralston-Goss, who says that the Detroit-Pittsburgh Golf Association is doing much to bring about reforms that "will carry your gospel of keeping the game within the means of the men of moderate means."

But golfing still comes high enough in most places in the United States as can be observed from comparative visitors' fees in Canada, England and the United States. On many of the best courses in Canada, including Vancouver, Victoria, Ottawa, Royal and the fee is one dollar. On a few others the charge is $1.50. The Royal Montreal is about the only one charging $2. In England, such courses as Hoylake, Prestwick, Coombe Hill, Sunning Dale and Midsbury, the charge is five shillings. In America, the standard charge is $2, but there are many clubs, such as those at Atlantic City, the Chicago Golf Club, Piping Rock, Westchester-Biltmore and Brookline, where the fee is $3.

INDIANS START SOUTH

(By the Associated Press)

CLEVELAND, Feb. 14.—The vanguard of the Cleveland Indians left here tonight for Hot Springs, Arkansas, where they will remain for two weeks—going to the spring training camp at Lakeland, Florida. Although there are several players of other clubs at Hot Springs, this is the first squad of major leaguers to start South.

In the party leaving here were Pitchers George Uhle, Stanley, Coveleskie, Joe Shaute, George Metevier, and Frank Jeric and Outfielder Homer Summa. They were in charge of Jack McCallister, the veteran coach.

Firpo and Lodge Ready For Fight Tomorrow Night

(Associated Press Leased Wire)

BUENOS AIRES, Feb. 15.—Luis Angel Firpo and Farmer Lodge of the United States have completed training for their fight tomorrow, weighing 104 and 105½ kilograms, respectively (according to this, Firpo weighs 229 pounds as compared with 216½ at the time of his championship fight with Jack Dempsey).

Both men yesterday passed the medical test in the presence of the Municipal Boxing Commission. Ermino Spalla, whom Firpo is to fight on February 29, also passed the test.

Lieut. Hector Mendez, South American welterweight amateur champion, will referee the Firpo-Lodge bout.

SAVANNAH, Ga., Feb. 15.—W. L. (Young) Stirling, Georgia school boxer, will meet Mike McTigue, world's champion lightweight, in a return match on March 31, the engagement to be staged in Jersey City, N. J., it was announced last night by "Pa" Stirling, father-manager of the Georgian.

AMATEUR WINS DRIVING CONTEST

(By the Associated Press.)

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., Feb. 14.—W. G. Bucher, an amateur of Kansas City, won a golf driving contest here today when he sent the ball 289 yards, a yard farther than Jim Barnes, New York professional and former national open champion, who was second.

Arthur Gladstone Havers, British open champion, was third with 283 yards.

Golfers Begin Open Championship

(Associated Press Leased Wire)

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., Feb. 15.—Under a sunshine which made sweaters a burden, 104 professional and amateur golfers this morning started the first 18-hole leg of the 72-hole Texas open championship. The Brackenridge park municipal links is the place the contests take place.

Galleries this morning were well-divided between the foursome in which Arthur Havers and Joe Kirkwood were paired with two of San Antonio's best players and a foursome composed of the veterans John Black, now from Wichita, Kansas; Macdonald Smith, San Francisco; Jim Barnes, Pelham Manor, N. Y., and George Bowlin, Cincinnati.

COLD THAT DEVELOP INTO PNEUMONIA

Chronic coughs and persistent colds lead to serious lung trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with two fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and kills the germ.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by the medical fraternity as the greatest healing agency for the treatment of chronic coughs and colds and other forms of throat and lung troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and destroys the germs that lead to consumption.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of chronic coughs and colds, bronchitis, asthma, catarrh, bronchitis and other forms of throat and lung diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or the flu. Money refunded if any, cough or cold, no matter of how long standing, is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. Creomulsion Co., Atlantic, Ga.—Adv.

THE LONG AND SHORT OF IT AT WELLESLEY COLLEGE

WELLESLEY, Mass., Feb. 15.—Mabel Cummings, head of the hygiene department, was due to the fact that the latest physical test came at the same time as the final exams.

The girls probably were blowing off most of their wind at their finals. There are more short girls than tall ones—187 to 182 in the 1923 class the group on which these statistics only 4 feet 10 inches.

The heaviest girl weighed 212 pounds when she came into college, but she reduced it to 194 pounds at the end of her first year. The lightest weighed only 91 pounds on entering, but raised it to 98 pounds during the year. The average gain over the whole class was 2.31 pounds.

The difference in strength is of even wider range than that of weight. The strongest girl in the class registered 458 kilograms, more than 1000 pounds. The weakest girl showed strength of only 176 kilograms, or 389 pounds.

THE GUMPS

GOOD MORNING, MRS. HAMMER—IM SO GLAD YOU CAME OVER—YOU LOOK CHARMING—

YOU LOOK NICE YOURSELF, MRS. GUMP—IM SURE MOST PEOPLE WOULD BE SICK IN BED AFTER THE TERRIBLE ORDEAL YOU HAD TO UNDERGO THE OTHER DAY—

WHAT TERRIBLE ORDEAL? I DONT UNDERSTAND—

WELL, MAYBE IT WASNT AN ORDEAL FOR YOU—YOU ARE THE EASY-GOING, UNSUSPICIOUS KIND OF WOMAN WHO IS BLIND TO YOUR OWN BEST INTERESTS—BUT IF I SAW MY HUSBAND BEING TOWED HOME BY A STRANGE YOUNG WOMAN ID NEVER REST EASY TILL ID FOUND OUT THE REAL REASON FOR IT—

MR. GUMP SAID HIS CAR BROKE DOWN AND MRS. GUMPS JUST HAPPENED TO COME ALONG—

DONT LET HIM DECEIVE YOU—MARK MY WORDS THERE IS MORE TO THAT LITTLE INCIDENT THAN APPEARS ON THE SURFACE—YOUR HUSBAND HAS MADE A LOT OF EASY MONEY LATELY AND HES JUST READY FOR ANYTHING—YOU DONT KNOW MEN LIKE I DO—YOU OWE IT TO YOURSELF TO GET TO THE BOTTOM OF THIS LITTLE AFFAIR—MEND YOUR LIFE WHEN THEYRE CORNERED—DONT TAKE YOUR HUSBANDS WORD FOR ANYTHING—MAKE HIM PROVE EVERYTHING—WITH HIS ROMANCE IN THE BUD—

Sales light this week on account of weather conditions. Prices remaining about the same as they have been for the past ten days or more. We advise you to market your tobacco as fast as you can get it in proper condition. If you are in a position to sell your tobacco on the Auction Floors, we would strongly advise you to raise tobacco instead of cotton as this section has a world-wide reputation for their chewing and smoking tobaccos, and no other country can compete with us. We expect to run all of our warehouses another year with full forces. We have up to present time sold five million pounds more than the entire season last year. Sell your tobacco at auction and get your statement with all your cash at the time you sell, and not have to wait two years for your payment.

Yours for a square deal.

Two Dead; Nine Missing In Fire

(Associated Press Leased Wire)

MONTPELIER, Vermont, Feb. 15.—Two persons were killed and nine are missing and believed to have lost their lives in a fire which destroyed the Lawrence Building on Main street early today.

A number of others were seriously injured. The loss is estimated at $300,000.

The known dead are: Walter Washburn and Mrs. J. F. Waterman. Both sustained fatal injuries when they jumped from windows and missed the life net.

NEW YORK STOCKS.

(Associated Press Leased Wire)
NEW YORK, Feb. 15.—Stock prices started upward at the opening of today's stock market but a resumption of profit taking and bear selling gave the general list an irregular tone. Oils made recovery from the heaviness. Dupont gained two points and U. S. Cast Iron Pipe one.

Prices fluctuated within narrow limits in the early trading with speculators for the advance maintaining control. Congoleum advanced 2 1/2 to 3 1/2, a new 1924 top, and Allis Chalmers, Texas and Mexico moved up about a point each. Other gains were largely fractional. Davison Chemical dropped one point and Studebaker yielded fractionally. Foreign exchanges opened lower.

MORNING COTTON LETTER

Thomson & McKinnon
NEW YORK, Feb. 15.—Yesterday's cotton market was under pressure from the opening to the close. Weak all day. Liquidation increased in volume every hour and was heaviest in the last minute of trading. I can see nothing good of the market except that the adjustment between a highly speculative price and one at which the manufacturing end of the business can make it show a profit is much nearer at hand. Opening prices this morning may be well under 22 cents for May and I hope to see at least a temporary check to the decline between that price and 21.50.

DAILY PUZZLE

UTAOYINAAISIE.

Distribute "one letter of the alphabet eight times among the line of letters, and space them off into words. They will then form a sentence.

Yesterday's answer:

975431

The highest number that could be made with numbered blocks from 1 to 6 would be 654,321. One of the children turned over the 6 block, and the number became 954,321. But another fracas occurred, and the 2 block was turned over and put in its wrong position, making the number 975,431.

MORNING STOCK LETTER.

(Thomson & McKinnon.)
Notwithstanding the covering movement that developed in the latter half of the session yesterday, about 200 different stocks showed losses at the end of the day. The copper shares were conspicuous yesterday. It is about time they had a move. They are entirely out of line with prevailing values.

There is nothing in the news this morning that is different from what we had yesterday. The Mellon tax bill will not go through. The opposition plan, or a compromise, will. Any one of the plans is more favorable than the present tax law and therefore is bullish to that extent. I think bulls are going to have a hard road to travel from now on.

The sensational investigation that is going on in Washington don't make a good background for a bull market. I don't care how favorable the industrial or financial fundamentals may be, you can tell from one hour to another what new name will be brought forth, what new sensation will be broadcasted.

Withdraw Troops From Williamson

(By the Associated Press.)
MARION, Ill., Feb. 15.—Withdrawal of troops from Williamson county, where they were sent after a clash between dry Ku Klux Klan and wet anti-klan factions last Friday, leaves the neutral element of the citizenry to work out their plans for establishing an orderly control of affairs.

With the exception of one battalion of the 130th Infantry, the military forces will leave Herrin today and a number of units depart from Marion and other points where they have been stationed this week.

Although the non-partisan committee of influential citizens which is working to restore peace has received assurances of support from all sides, many persons fear that as soon as the troops leave trouble will break out afresh. The feud between the factions, they say, is too deep to disappear so soon.
